

Summer Term Attendance Update

★ 1. Every day still counts — even in the summer term

Missing lessons now means gaps that follow you into next year. Teachers are still teaching new content, building skills and preparing you for what comes next.

★ 2. Good attendance protects your grades

Summer term learning links directly to assessments, GCSE preparation and next year's curriculum. Turning up gives you the best chance of finishing the year strong.

★ 3. Your attendance record goes with you

Colleges, sixth forms, apprenticeships and employers look at your attendance. A strong finish in the summer term shows commitment, reliability and resilience.

★ 4. Being in school keeps you connected

The final term is full of trips, events, celebrations, enrichment and opportunities you only get by being here. Attendance means you don't miss out on the best parts of school life.

★ 5. Good habits now make next year easier

Finishing the year with strong attendance sets you up for a confident start in September. Routine, focus and consistency are skills — and summer is where you build them.

Attendance reward – Summer Term

You will be entered into the prize draw for a football shirt if your attendance is between 98% and 100% Until the end of term
